We agree with Ovid that "Nothing is stronger than Custom," at least in the matter of the custom-made-to-measure suit at one hundred dollars and upwards. But we have Shakespeare's version of the so-called custom tailored suit at a ready-to-wear price. Such so-called custom-made suits are the best advertisements for our Ready-to-Wear Clothing, correctly styled, smartly tailored of choice fabrics, at prices lower than equal quality commands in other good shops.

MUSIC STAFF GIVE GOOD CONCERT

Large Attendance At First Recital.

DR. PERRIN SPOKE.

Well Balanced Programme Proved Instructive and Enjoyable

Last evening the McGill Conservatorium Staff gave its first concert since 1917. Owing to the influenza the usual concert was cancelled last year.

The Convocation Hall was filled to its capacity with many familiar faces. The programme was most enjoyable. Two junior members of the staff rendered very beautiful selections of more modern composers. Owing to Mr. Jackson being indisposed to sing on account of a cold, Miss Lutton gave two very charming solos.

The programme was as follows:

Pianoforte Sonata (first movement) . . . . . B. J. Dale
Miss Edith Johnson.
Song, "I Attempt From Love's Sickness to Fly" . . . . . Purcell
Miss D. Lutton.
Sonata for Violin and Piano-forte . . . . . John Ireland
Allegro leggiero
Romance
Rondo.
Mr. Eddie Katz and Dr. Perrin.
Pianoforte Solo
Prelude, Op. 18, Andantino
Cantabile . . . . . Caesar Frank
Rhapsodie, Op. 79, No. 2
Molto passionato ella non trappo allegro. . . . . Johannes Brahms
Prelude, Op. 28, No. 19
Vivace . . . . . Frederic F. Chopin
Suite de Concert, No. 3
Allegro affettuoso. Franz Liszt
Mr. Walter Hungerford.

Songs—
"Life and Death" . . . . . Coleridge Taylor
"Will o' the Wisp" . . . . . Spross
Miss D. Lutton.
Allegro moderato (from the second concerto) . . . . . Wieniawski
Mr. Saul Brant.

To commence the evening, Dr. Perrin spoke a few words on the composers of the first three selections on the programme. Throughout the (Continued on page 3)

RIFLE CLUB MET AND REORGANISED

A Shoot Will Be Arranged For Soon.

A meeting of the Rifle Club was held yesterday afternoon in the Arts Building. This meeting really reinstitutes the Club which has lapsed since 1914, when its activities were first merged in those of the C. O. T. C. afterwards ceasing altogether. It was held in order to elect officers and to formulate plans. The following officers were elected:—

Honorary president:—Professor Macmillan.
Honorary vice-president:—Dr. Tait.
President:—C. M. Bennett.
Vice-president:—R. S. Omeara.
Secretary:—J. L. Bieler.

Plans for the year were also discussed and the older members stated what had been the practice of former years. It was thereupon agreed to follow along the same line as in the past, that is to hold outdoor shoots once a week before the snow comes. In the past these have been held at the Point aux Trembles ranges where there are two, three and five hundred yard ranges. It was decided to secure an indoor range for the winter. The possibility of having a revolver practice was also discussed and it is greatly favoured by some.

The executive are making arrangements to secure rifles and there should be no difficulty in doing so, specially as there are many rifles now available.

Before the war, this was a very popular Club sometimes as many as forty men turning out to a shoot, and it is hoped this year to revive both the Inter-faculty shoots for which a shield is awarded by Dr. Birkett and also the Inter-Collegiate shooting matches. About thirty were present to-day but it is hoped to recruit more members especially some of the former ones. Of course this Club is open to all alike.

Further announcements will appear in the "Daily" shortly.

AMERICANS WILL HAVE GOOD CLUB

To Be Very Active This Year.

DR. PORTER PRESIDENT
Newest Of Clubs Makes Ambitious Plans For Season.

The first meeting of the American Club was held last night at the Union. From the attendance and enthusiasm shown it bids fair to be one of the largest and most flourishing clubs at McGill.

The meeting was called to order at 7.45 p.m., the former President, Mr. H. V. Karnes, acting as chairman.

After a brief but well worded address as to the motive and meaning of the club, he opened the nominations for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Dr. J. B. Porter was elected Hon. President.
H. V. Karnes, Science '20, was again unanimously elected President.
T. Orlando, Law '23, Vice-Pres.
W. M. Walsh, Med. '20, Secretary.
H. Lewis, Med. '22, assistant sec.
K. Livingstone, Science '21, treas.

After the election of officers, the business of the meeting was taken up in a most enthusiastic but orderly manner. The chairman and also other members made many good suggestions for the coming years. These were readily backed and from incentive shown there was no question as to the success of this meeting. It is certainly a good criterion for the successive meetings that are to be held throughout the coming year.

McGILL SIEGE MEN FORM ASSOCIATION

Officers Elected and Re-Union Planned.

A meeting of the members of the 7th (McGill) Siege Battery was held in the Union last night to consider the possibility of forming an association, so that re-unions of former members might be held from time to time. The meeting was well-attended and after discussion it was arranged to leave the matter in the hands of an executive who were elected as follows:—

President, D. H. Christie.
Vice-President, H. B. Little.
Secretary, A. K. Hugessen.
Treasurer, C. Strachan.

The meeting also discussed the nature of the Association to be formed and plans for the future.

Med. '21

A meeting of Med. '21 was held Oct. 22nd to elect representatives to the following:

Senior Dance Committee:—
Mr. Hawthorne.
Mr. Parkins.
Annual Board:—
Mr. Scriber.
Mr. Cooder.
Mr. Tremble.

MEMBERSHIP DOUBLED IN THE CERCLE

Prof. Du Roure Gives Fine Address.

DR. WALTERS PRESENT.

New Members Enthusiastic Over Meeting.

The Cercle Francais held its first meeting at the Union last night, and sixty members listened to a most interesting address by Prof. Du Roure. Those who were there for the first time were delighted with the evening's programme and vowed that they would be constant attendants at the Cercle in future.

Mr. Grosjean was in the chair. He said a few words of welcome to the members and then introduced Prof. Du Roure.

Prof. Du Roure said that it was Tuesday's Daily that gave him the inspiration for his talk. He said that he was unaware that he was to talk on "Reminiscences of the War" until he saw it stated in the Daily.

Prof. Du Roure, who is also a Captain in the French army, told how he was mobilised the second day after the declaration of war; and gave a graphic description of the scenes in Paris when the notices of mobilization were posted; how excited they all were, and how they talked of nothing else but their marching orders.

Capt. Du Roure then told how, as a Captain of a company of Reserves he went as far as Belgium, passing through Verdun en route. It was in Belgium that he saw his first action on Aug. 23rd. His colonel told him to capture a section of road then held by the Germans, and he said that he was afraid his men wouldn't follow him, but that the feeling soon disappeared after they started. Only seven men survived the engagement, and they were all wounded and taken prisoners.

He went through many prison camps where he stayed two years. He related several experiences and said that those who found nothing to occupy their minds went mad in time. Captain Du Roure himself studied Russian from one of the prisoners and endeavored to teach him English in return. He said that he found (Continued on page 4)

HARRIER RUN WAS HELD YESTERDAY

Twenty-Five Out and Every-one Covered the Distance.

The second harrier run of the season was held yesterday afternoon from the Stadium and was an out-standing success in every way. A wealth of new material was brought to light and it will certainly be a big surprise if a championship team is not developed.

Twenty-five started on and everyone covered the full distance. In order to avoid a finish down the sharp incline in front of the Royal Victoria Hospital Monday night's course was reversed and a start was made west on Pine Ave. In spite of the sharp ascent both here and on the serpentine everyone stuck to it and all the way along the Mountain road as far as the Cote St. Catherine the crowd were pretty well bunched. From here however some of the more conditioned runners forged ahead and as the pace increased on reaching Park Ave. the field was pretty well strung out. In spite of this the first five men were well-together and Norm Egg the winner won out by yards over his nearest opponent Clegg. J. C. Antilist and Desbarats were right behind and were closely followed by Skinner who ran a nice race considering that this is his first attempt at the distance since the inter-faculty run of 1915.

It is a little early yet to make any definite forecast with regard to the team but after Egg has been out a little more and become better conditioned he will make the best of them hustle to keep him out of the big run. It is often the dark horse however who turns the unexpected and with the abundance of material on deck it is confidently expected that we shall have not only a first class inter-faculty run but a college team that will show their heels to Queen's, Toronto and R. M. C.

The next practice will be held at 10.30 Tuesday morning if the day be on holiday and if not at 5.15 on Wednesday. The executive are very desirous that all those who ran yesterday will once again put in an appearance and new material will also be welcomed.

THE SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

In a recent editorial we made reference to the Social Service Department of McGill, commenting in general upon the necessity of a better grasp of social problems on the part of students. In this connection we emphasized the necessity of the practical element as well as the theoretical.

The Social Service of McGill University, while quite distinct from our Social Service Department in that it is wholly and absolutely a student organization, offers in considerable measure the opportunity to acquire just this desirable first hand acquaintance with practical problems of social service work.

Organized last year in connection with the Committee on Social Service of the McGill Y.M.C.A., the Social Service Club owes its existence and what it has accomplished solely to the initiative and perseverance, to say nothing of devotedness, of a relatively small number of students. The work was undertaken with the primary purpose of reaching the newsboys of Montreal in an intimate and really effective way. That is, it was felt that this branch of the great social service field was worthy of the specialized efforts of the organization.

The first object of the club was to establish a real point of contact with the nomads of the street, an undertaking which by the way presented no small difficulties. However, as a result of careful planning and considerable effort, one hundred newsboys, were, to a certain extent, interested. A night school was formed and with all the necessary tactfulness the thoughts of the urchins were gradually directed from the gymnasium and entertainment to the task of acquiring an elementary education. The work was not always of the most encouraging nature, and it was carried on often at no little sacrifice on the part of the more or less busy students who had volunteered their services. By the close of last session, however, considerable progress had been made. Over sixty boys had become really interested in the night school and were regular attendants. In short, the organization closed the first session of its history with considerable satisfaction, but with the earnest desire to make the succeeding year count for even greater things.

This Fall the Club is preparing to resume the work of last year and to considerably extend and enlarge upon it. In addition to the night school it is proposed to take up some systematic Settlement Work. The Club is awake to the present needs and therefore to the great opportunity which presents itself in every sphere of social service work. While the work previously accomplished is worthy of commendation and is in every way a real credit to McGill, it is the earnest aim and purpose of the organization to expand and accomplish greater things.

Limitations of one kind or another have in considerable measure stood in the way of many plans which the Club would gladly have carried out. These restrictions, or at least some of them, still exist and the secret of their removal and the consequent unretarded expansion of this great work lies in the wholehearted support of the students and Staff of the University. This is work which is worthy of the best and noblest that is in us. We cannot close our eyes to the crying need for social service work, but are we ready to lend our enthusiastic support to the Social Service Club which stands for practical service?

CABINET MEETING OF Y.M. AND Y.W.

Hope To Send Twenty Delegates to Des Moines Iowa.

Joint meeting of the Cabinets of Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. together with the representatives of the Student Volunteers and other interested members of the University, was held at Strathcona Hall yesterday for the purpose of formulating plans for the big International Convention to be held in Des Moines, Iowa in the latter part of December.

About thirty persons sat down to supper in Room B. at six o'clock, and others came in time for the discussion which began at 6.45.

The spirit displayed augurs well for the success of the movement that is being initiated. It is proposed to send cure a delegation of 20 students to represent McGill at this Convention, the budget for this scheme will amount to $2000.

The last great Student Volunteer Convention was held at Kansas City six years ago. This year there will be a gathering of 6000 Students with about 2000 others at Des Moines, representing about 1000 institutions of higher education. Speakers will come from all parts of the world, and represent the best in the present day Missionary Movement.

The task undertaken by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. is a heavy one, but it is assuredly believing that this is an opportunity that McGill cannot afford to miss, in this day of great international responsibilities.

LOST.

Will the gentleman who took a fall coat from Chemistry last Monday afternoon kindly return same to the Editor of Chemistry Building. The coat is a Lesser Bros. make.

LETTERS OF A FRESHMAN.

By Gen.

(With the odd apology to Ring Lardner et al.)

Strathcona's Hall, The McGill University, Oct. 18th, 1919.

Dear Pa:

Well Pa, here I am at last, a real student at the McGill University and away to a good start on my career as an Advocate, Barrister and Solicitor, although I have not got my bearings yet and am a bit balled up—ha! ha! pretty good, eh Pa—ball bearings, see! I must say, however, that my fellow students, one and all, are most kind in answering my questions—I'll say she does! By crickey, Pa, I'm certainly getting the best of things up here as you will see by this last phrase. It's one of the latest. For instance, if a feller comes up to you and says, "Say, Bo, McGill has a great football team this year." You answer right back at him—"I'll say she does." See what I mean, Pa? Another of the latest expressions is—"Now, wouldn't that get your goat." I hear a feller saying it in Strathcona's Hall here, and I laughed so hard, I darn near bust. You want to spring it on the boys up at Hank Day's store next Saturday night.

Goah darn it, Pa, I have so much to tell you, I don't know where to begin. As Austin Heron, my room-mate says, "It's a great life if you're in with the Profiteers." This reminds me to tell you how I met Austy. I was standing in Strathcona's Hall one night feeling kind of lonesome for you and the folks up home, when a feller comes up to me and hollars—"Hey, Rube, are you wired up for to-night? If not, how about trickling down to the bright lights and pike off a couple of swell ones—are you?" It appears that he wanted to introduce me to two of his lady friends, but as I felt sort of shy, I thanked him for this act of courtesy, and suggested that instead of this, we go over to the Royal Victorian College and meet Mafie Sims and Maria Day, who as you know, are also studying up here at the McGill University.

"Boy," he says, "I'm your little man. If these flossies have got the goods, lead me to 'em kid, and I'll guarantee they'll be eating out of my lily white milt in five minutes."

It strikes me, Pa, that Austy uses too much of this here new fangled slang. I don't mind an expression with some sense to it like, "I'll say she does," but Austy uses so many slang words that I can't always understand him. Still, he is a good friend and helps me out by explaining anything I don't understand.

Anyways, we went over to the Royal Victorian College and I introduced Austy to the girls, and he seemed quite pleased. As he said afterwards, "Mafie has this here Helen of Troy, who is one of these movie actresses, I guess, looking like the middle of next week." At that, I swam she is easy to look at, but I don't take much stock in hanging around the girls.

Just as Austy and I were coming out of the Royal Victorian College, a girl student, passing down the hall, says to me—"Hello, Cutie, who tied your tie?" Austy laughed so dum hard, I thought he'd bust, but I couldn't see anything funny in it, as I wasn't wearing a tie at all, and had on a sweater. I think that this girl was kidding me, as the saying goes. Some of these girls are too new, don't you think so? By crickey, if she'd been a boy, I'd a bust her one on the jaw, quicker than you could say horned toad.

Before closing this letter, I want to tell you about the McGill Union, which Austy explained to me. If you want to join the Union, you have to pay $100 a year, but the big advantage is that you work only Union hours at your lectures. That is to say, if a student don't belong to the Union, he has to attend 12 lectures a day, while a Union student would only have to attend 3 1/2 lectures a day. Another advantage is that if you get sick, the Head Professor of the Union writes all your examinations for you. Pretty good, eh Pa? I'll say she does! Mr. Joseph Gilbooley, the great football player is Head Professor of the Union this year. He must be pretty clever to write all the sick students' exams, eh Pa?

Well, Pa, not having to do any chores to-night, I guess I'll hit the old rube poster. Give my regards to Ma and the girls.

Your loving son,

Sl.

P.S.—My old wallet is far from being in the healthy condition it was when I first came here.

OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS.

Mr. Maurice Sheffer (late of the Ritz Dancing Studio) has opened the Castle School of Dancing in the Orpheum Theatre Building, and is offering all McGill students a special rate of twenty per cent reduction on the usual terms. ## SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

There will be a meeting of the above Club, this evening at 8 o'clock at the Hall. To this meeting all men interested in social service are cordially invited to be present. Director Falk and Dr. Herbert Synnolds will address the students, and at the close of the meeting refreshments will be served. All up.

BIG MEET WILL BE ON TO-MORROW

Red and White Will Have Strong Team.

SEATS NOW ON SALE.

Records May Be Broken In Track Events

It is expected that the largest crowd seen so far on the McGill Stadium will be present tomorrow for the Inter-collegiate Track Meet. Never before has there been such interest shown in this branch of sport and the close competition between the teams in bringing a large crowd of spectators out to watch them. Reports from the other universities show that they are all equally sure of carrying off the championship and none of them will relinquish their claims until the last event is concluded.

The rooster's club will be on hand with their band and will help the Red and White team to carry on throughout the afternoon. The roosters have been given the best seats in the grandstand and a special rate of thirty-five cents will be made to everyone attending the roosters practice tonight. The seats reserved for the roosters are exactly at the finish of the track course and no one else will be allowed to occupy them. It is expected that there will be well over five hundred roosters on hand at the game as well as many other students who will pay the full rate.

"There seems to be a very great tendency on the part of the men students to go to the games accompanied by some of their fair companions judging by the numerous applications made by them for reserved seats. Anyone desiring to obtain reserved seats in the choice parts of the grandstand should apply for them today as it is expected that the majority of them will be disposed of by tonight.

The Track team held its last strenuous practice of the season last night when the whole eighteen men turned out at the stadium and did two hours work. The men will rest up today with the exception of one or two who will make light workouts this morning.

The final McGill team is printed below:

Two will start in each event.
Pole Vault—W. S. Antliff and L. W. Mullen.

100 Yards—Kennedy, Hay, Johnson.
Half Mile—Hamilton, King, Antliff.
Throwing Sixteen Pound Hammer—McLellan, Foss, Notman, McDonald.
Running High Jump—Kennedy, Foss, Mullen.

Putting Sixteen Pound Shot—Notman, McDonald, Dickie.
Running Broad Jump—Kennedy, Wells, Antliff.

One Mile—Hamilton, Antliff, Jaanes.
Discus—Dickie, Kennedy, Notman.
220 Yards—Hay, Johnson, King.
Hurdles—Gnaedinger, Kennedy.
440 Yards—King, Hay, Kyle.
Three Miles—Antliff, Hamilton, Hall.

Relay—Kyle, McNider, Kennedy, King, Hay, Hamilton.

SOPHOMORES RALLIED WITH OLD TIME FORM

Freshmen Were Given Good Reception Last Evening—Visited High School and Bryson's.

Last night a number of Med. freshmen, overcome no doubt by a longing to return to the haunts of their childish companions, arrayed themselves in their very best rompers (or whatever they wear) and bled them forth to the High School, there to follow the poet's injunction:

"On with the dance, let Joy be unrefined."

Their visit, it is only fair to explain was supervised throughout by some thoughtful Soph, who, by the exercise of considerable ingenuity (and a genius for second-storey work) managed to obtain entrance for themselves and their youthful charges. Fearing however, that the sight of the dancers would over-excite the minds of their youthful charges, the kindly Sophs, shepherded them out into the streets again whence they made an interesting parade through some of the mal-thoroughfares of the city, suitably attired, and making the welkin ring with their justly-celebrated "Freshies Yell." During this promenade they were extensively noticed by the general public, their evident and extensive youth occasioning considerable remark. One elderly matron was at this time of night. "Which sapient heard to remark, 'It's simply ridiculous to allow such mere children out remark we fully concur."

TOURNAMENT. MCGILL SECONDKramer and Greene Win Doubles — Greene Lost Hard Game To Sheard—Meet. Proved Great Success.

The concluding stages of the Inter-Collegiate tennis tournament were reached yesterday, when the semi-finals were as follows:—

Singles

Semi-finals

Sheard (Varsity) vs. Spencer (Varsity), won by Sheard 6-1, 6-4.

Greene (McGill) vs. Little (Varsity), won by Greene 6-2, 6-0.

Finals

Sheard (Varsity) vs. Greene (McGill), won by Sheard 4-6, 5-7, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Doubles

Semi-finals

Dickson-Dickson (Varsity) vs. Torrance and Thompson (Queen's) won by Varsity 7-5, 6-4.

Greene and Kramer (McGill) vs. Little and Reid (Varsity) won by McGill 6-3, 6-4.

Finals

Greene and Kramer (McGill) vs. Dickson and Dickson (Varsity) won by McGill 6-3, 6-4.

In the first single Sheard disposed easily of his opponent, winning the first five games of the opening set before Spencer could get going. In the second set Spencer came back and had the set 4-4, but Sheard won on his opponent's serve, and by winning his own took the set and match. Sheard's enormous reach and terrific net game gave him a great advantage and he was never really pressed.

In the other single Greene was drawn against Little (Varsity) and had little difficulty in winning 6-2, 6-0. Greene played a masterly game, his service in particular being extremely difficult to return, while his skillful placing was also a feature.

The final between Greene and Sheard was full of thrills and good tennis and Greene at one time looked like an easy winner. The first set opened with Sheard serving and the latter took the first four games. After this however, Greene found himself and took six straight games winning the set 6-4. The second set was an even affair all the way through, each man winning his service until the 9th game when Sheard lost his serve making the score 5-4 for Greene. The latter finally won the set 7-6. In this set Greene's ability to return almost impossible shots was the deciding factor. In the third set Sheard won the first three games but Greene came back and took the next four. Sheard evened on his serve making the score 4-4 and the next four games were won by the server. Sheard finally won Greene's serve and the set 8-4. In the fourth set each man won his serve until the 8th game, when Greene lost this, making the score 5-3. Sheard then won his serve and the set, making the score two sets each. In the deciding set, Greene began to show signs of fatigue, Sheard obtained the first two games, Greene won the next on Sheard's service but Sheard took the next making the score 3-1. He also won the next game, Greene serving and making three doubles. Greene however won the next two games, 4-3 but Sheard won the next on his service and finally took the set 6-3 after a hard-fought game Sheard deserved every credit for his win, and particularly for his remarkable persistency and come-back when odds were against him. His net playing was particularly strong, owing to his tremendous reach and this coupled with his doggedness in going after shots which most players would have given up won the match. Greene, while playing masterly tennis in the first two sets weakened gradually as the match went on, due no doubt to fatigue incident on his trip to Kingston.

In the doubles the Dickson Brothers (Varsity) were drawn against Torrance and Thompson (Queen's). Queens started off with a rush and had the score 4-0 before Varsity struck their stride. Queens got the next one but Varsity came back and won the next five games and the second set the Varsity men continued inform and won the first four games. Queens took the next one but Varsity won the first two and the match.

Greene and Kramer met Little and Reid Varsity and had little difficulty in winning the first set 6-3. The second set was closer but McGill also won this 6-4. While Reid and Little displayed better team work than the McGill pair, the latter's individual play was superior and this eventually won them the match. Kramer played mostly the net, while Greene looked after shots in deep court, but when possible both came up.

In the finals, Greene and Kramer met the Dickson brothers and started off in fine form, winning the first game on Greene's service and also took the next two, making the score 3-0. Varsity came back, however and took the next two but lost their serve. Kramer won his service, 5-2 Varsity took the next and McGill finally won on Greene's service the score being 6-3. In the second set Varsity displayed some very good team work and Greene and Kramer missed several shots in centre courts owing to misunderstanding. Varsity won this set 6-3. In the third set McGill settled down and the play was practically a duplicate of the first set. Kramer played a very strong net game in this set, and in fact McGill owed their victory largely to superior individual play, the Dickson brothers playing together much better than the McGill pair.

Greene undoubtedly deserves great credit for his play; as he had already played in both a singles and doubles event in the morning as well as five sets of singles in the afternoon. Of the seven points scored by McGill he was responsible for six.

Great credit is due to the officials of the Tennis Club who contributed in no small measure to the success of the meet, and thanks are due to the Vice-President, H. C. Bussiere, Med. '22 who made all arrangements and to A. E. Branch Med. '20 who, in his capacity as umpire gave satisfaction to all.

As a result of the meet, Varsity are winners by 11 points (out of a possible 16). McGill come next with seven and Queens third with three. This gives Varsity two legs on the Inter-Collegiate Cup, McGill also has two and R. M. C. one.

MUSIC STAFF GIVE GOOD CONCERT

concerts of the Conservatorium English composers have not been neglected. Last evening two very modern ones, Dale and Ireland, were included. Both composers are not free from European influence. Dale's sonata was composed at the age of eighteen. It is modern but not extreme. Dale, a few years after this composition was published, was in Germany until the signing of peace. Dr. Perrin then gave the audience the themes of the sonata, explaining each as he played them. Miss Johnson then gave a very excellent rendering of the composition. For an encore Miss Johnson gave Ireland's "Speld of Ireland."

Miss Dorothy Lutton next gave a very charming solo. Following this last item Dr. Perrin said a few helpful words about John Ireland. In his works he is very scrupulous and wistful. There is a great future for Ireland, even if he composes nothing more than we know already. The themes of the selection were given between each movement.

Mr. Katz, in his usual manner, held the audience at times spell bound with the tremolo, on very high notes. The last movement with its bright and cheery air was perhaps the most enjoyed. The habitual use of the talk-song was most marked.

Mr. Hungerford, the fourth on the programme pleased the audience tremendously with four selections. The first being a typical example of composition in Franck's time. Brahms rhapsodie was a great contrast to the first selection with its heavy chords in the bass. The Chopin selection was from beginning to end full of this rich melody which no other composer, save Chopin, could have conceived. The last selection was perhaps the most popular. Throughout the rendering of these selections Mr. Hungerford showed a distinctive style.

Miss Lutton then sang Coleridge-Taylor's "Life and Death," and followed it by "Will o' the Wisp," which proved to be the most favorite. Possibly because the audience knew the air.

Mr. Saul Brant ended the programme by a composition of Wiclawski. The selection was an illustration of the Russian school. At all times through the rendering of this piece Mr. Brant showed himself a master of his instrument.

The evening was drawn to a close by the National Anthem.

MAY FORM VET. CLUB.

A large and important meeting of the Ret. Med. Assoc. was held last night, L. C. Montgomery presided.

Among other matters it was decided to open the membership of the Assoc. to any Medical Undergrad. who had served in any branch of His Majesty's service in any theatre of war.

From time to time there has been discussion as to the advisability of uniting this organization with some General Veterans Club. At the meeting last night it was decided to hold this matter in abeyance. There was a suggestion, however, that it might be profitable and advisable to unite the returned men of all faculties into one McGill Veterans Club.

It is pointed out to all Medical returned men that they may become members of this Association by paying the Annual fee of fifty cents to their year representatives.

The objects of the Association are:
1.—To renew and maintain the comradeship stimulated by war.
2.—To co-ordinate the activities of returned men and to stimulate their interest in College affairs.

The officers of the Association are:—
Hon. Pres. Brig. Gen. Birkett C. B.
Pres. L. C. Montgomery M. C.
Vice-Pres. Jack Copeland
Secy. A. N. Jenks
Treas. Walter Scriber
Refs. N. T. Williamson, H. S. Trefy
W. C. Archibald, Jerry Aylward, N. D. Hall.

Coast. Mr. Amato has appeared as soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic Society and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; he has also been re-engaged for the most important May Festivals during the last few years.

Of his Recital work Mr. Philip Hale in the Boston Herald says: "Amato sang with consummate art and emotional significance; his diction, both in Italian, French and German, was constantly a delight."

H. T. Parker in the Boston Transcript says: "It is good that Amato should so come into the concert room; he can disclose how variously accomplished, how artful and elegant and tasteful a singer he really is."

The high esteem in which Mr. Amato is held by the American public and Press has been corroborated by his appearances in England, where prominent London critics refer to his concert as "One of the sensations of recent years," "there was a storm of applause such as London seldom indulges in" and "a success which has not been equalled in London for many years."

YESTERDAY'S WORKOUT BY RUGBY TEAMS

Seniors Practised Kicking,
Passing, Falling and Tackling.

FLANAGAN OUT AGAIN.

"Shag" Expressed Himself
Satisfied With Second Team.

Despite the counter attractions of the Intercollegiate Tennis Finals, considerable interest was shown towards the first and second team practices at the Stadium yesterday afternoon; many spectators, as well as several members of the staff being out to watch the workout from the sidelines.

Shaughnessy devoted nearly all his attention to the Seniors, giving them lots of practice in kicking, passing, falling on the ball and tackling. "Shag" didn't seem altogether satisfied, however, with the work of some of the players; this applied more especially to passing and catching, and at one time or another, nearly every member of the team was sent plodding round the track for exercise. Following the preliminaries "Shag" gave the first team some practice in signals, especially emphasizing the various buck-plays.

The two teams were then lined-up against each other for forty minutes stiff play, to equalize matters a bit and to give the Senior team's substitutes a chance, most of the men in the important positions on the first team's line were replaced by spares, Wallace playing quarter and Don Campbell flying wing. After a few minutes play "Shag's" eye was again aroused by fumbling on the part of some of the men, and from then until the end of the workout he made things hum. He expressed himself as being very satisfied with the behaviour of the second team at the end of the practice, however.

The old back line players, who had been passing the ball in the meantime, then joined up with the other Seniors and were put through a fast signal practice by Monty. Flanagan and Galt, who have only lately returned to play are showing up well, and should soon be in form again.

ROOTERS TO HOLD BUMPER PRACTICE

The most important practice of the Rooters' Club as yet is called for this evening. This practice is going to put the rooters in shape to be behind the men that are going out Saturday to give the best that is in them to "bring home the bacon" to McGill. The Rooters' Club is the only medium by which the student-body can show their appreciation and voice their confidence in the men out on the track, and the Rooters have to be in the best of shape to carry out their responsibility the way they should. It's your duty, then, if you are not going to be out on the track doing something for the college to be at least up there in the grandstand, doing something for the men who are out there, boosting them and cheering them till you are hoarse. And, when you are finally hoarse, get out your "kazoo" or horn, and keep things going.

The Rooters' band, that has been working hard all the week, will be out in full strength, and they will help to liven things up considerably. The old stand-by up on the platform, Archie Jenks, will be out, and be sure of it, the crowd will be there, so hustle through your dinner tonight and turn up with the crowd at 7.15. It will be well worth your while, and even if you are too much of a stoic to shout and sing, you'll enjoy the music and the band-concert all the more.

If you are not yet convinced that it will be to your advantage to turn out tonight, prepare to change your mind, for there is an added inducement to be mentioned yet. It's this: the students' Council have lately realized the highly important part that the Rooters have been playing of late in boosting athletics, and they have wanted to show the club that they appreciate the good work it has done and plans to do in the near future. And so they have decided to show their appreciation in a practical manner: their generosity, the Rooters' Club is to be allotted the best section of the grandstand, section "D" right at the finish, at a nominal admission fee of thirty-five cents. Of course, this applies to Rooters' only—all others will have to pay the regular price and will not, in all probability, have any such choice seats in the long run. These seats will be sold to-night at the practice, while they last, and after this, any that remain will be put back to the old price.

All out then at the Hall tonight at 7.15: bring along your voice, lots of willingness and "pop", and your thirty-five "cents". Be out on time: the earlier the practice starts, the better it progresses, and the sooner you are free for the remainder of the evening.

English preferable to Russian, and learned quite a lot himself in teaching the language to another.

In the course of time he was exchanged, and as he was unable to fight he went to Paris where he secured a position in the Intelligence Office. In the office next door to him were four officers who conducted the representatives of the various nations on a "Cook's Tour" round the front. Capt. Du Roure said that in the absence of all four of these officers he was called upon to make these tours himself and conducted about ten altogether. He related several anecdotes of the parties which accompanied him. One was a Congressman from N. Dakota who, having gone through a place where mustard gas still lingered, was afflicted with a belt of inflammation round his waist. He was delighted at being "wounded" in France, and asked the doctor if he supposed it would last until he could take it home to North Dakota!

Another was about a party of Chinese officials whom he was conducting on a twelve-day tour. He said they knew little French and that he was quite worried lest he should lose any of them. He was unable to secure billets in advance for them, so when he arrived he telephoned headquarters to see if he could secure accommodation for them. He received invitations for them to the Kaiser's palace at Strassburg, and those in charge asked him if there was anything peculiar about the guests. Capt. Du Roure told them that the only thing he knew of was that they were liable to make quite a noise while eating their soup. However, it transpired that they were as silent as their hosts, and Capt. Du Roure was accused of making up this fairy-tale about the soup.

Capt. Du Roure ended his address by telling a little about the Peace Parade in Paris. He told how the more zealous citizens climbed the trees that lined the Champs d'Élysées and stayed there all night in order to have a good view of the parade on the morrow.

The Americans, he said, walked fast, as also did the Belgians, but the British walked slower and made a far more impressive sight. The French came after the British. Capt. Du Roure said that there were no Canadians there, and that he was very sorry that this was so but that he was sure there was a Canadian standard in the square of colors.

The president then called upon Dr. Walters, who said that he was very hungry at that moment, being under the impression that supper was one of the main features of the Cercle. Dr. Villard and Prof. Du Roure endorsed his sentiments.

Then Prof. Lambert and two Past Presidents of the Cercle, Mr. Caverhill and Mr. Terroux, spoke a few words.

Mr. Morrin, in his cordial way, welcomed the students who were present and said that one advantage that the Cercle had over the class was that no Syntax and Translation need be handed in.

Dr. Villard then told how glad he was to see so many French enthusiasts and hoped that the good attendance would continue. He said that this meeting was a record one in two ways, first, that it was the first time that so many had ever attended a meeting of the Cercle; and second, that it was the first time the whole faculty of modern languages had been there, adding that the constitution would have to be amended to include the increased membership.

MEETING OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

Dr. Symonds Will Deliver
Address.

EVERYONE WELCOME.

More Men Required To Carry
On Numerous Activities.

To-night the Social Service Club will meet at the Hall to inaugurate their work for the coming season. As the meeting is open to all students a large attendance is expected.

The Club has been very fortunate in securing Dr. Herbert Symonds to address the students. Dr. Symonds has interested himself in every phase of Social activity and is among the foremost of those who are pushing with vigour a programme of social reconstruction. No student should fail to attend this meeting if for no other reason than having an opportunity to hear him.

The speaker will be introduced by Director Falk, head of the Social Service department of the University. This will afford an excellent opportunity to hear and meet one who has his heart and soul into his work and who, in addition to the work of his department, is sparing neither pain or energy to study and endeavour to centralize the social agencies of this city. At the close of the meeting refreshments will be served.

The Social Club was organized last year for the purpose of bringing together all students interested or desirous of being interested in social service and to maintain their interest by having them engage in some definite work.

Last year, as a direct outcome of the efforts of the club, the newboys night school was organized. At a recent meeting of the executive, the continuation of the work thus began was unanimously approved and much time has already been given arranging details. The executive hope to re-open their school during the first week of November, under the direction of Mr. J. Scott med. '21 who has been appointed supervisor of newboys, messengers and telegraph boys, who are not attending day-school will be encouraged to attend the Boys' night school organized by the club. The school will be open two nights a week from 7 to 9.30 and the curriculum will provide for elementary education as well as physical exercise in the forms of basketball, indoor base-ball, and gymnastics.

In addition to this, it is the purpose of the club to extend its service to include settlement work. It has been pointed out to the executive that the club could do good work by recruiting students to take a live interest in the work of the University settlement.

Apart from the above there are still many other avenues open to students who may be interested in some particular kind of work along social lines to an interested student the City of Montreal offers many opportunities for a study of every form of social activity. Under the auspices of the club a series of lectures will be given on Nov. 5, 6, 7, and 8th. by Dr. Withrows of Toronto. He will be remembered by his lecture given to the students last year, and if last year's meeting is any criterion and go by his lectures this year will not only be successful but very helpful to the undergraduate body.

The above indicates in some way the work undertaken by the club. There is no reason why there should not be a good number out tonight. The meeting will be held at the Hall and the Club extends a very cordial invitation to all who are in any way interested to be present.
